

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

04-30-2015

For further information or images: info@westerndressageassociation.org

Western Dressage Association® of America Announces New Volunteer Committee Structure

Parker, Colorado – The Western Dressage Association® of America (WDAA) announced its revised volunteer committee structure for 2015. The list of 2015 Committees can be found on the WDAA website. As a 501c3 educationally based nonprofit, WDAA relies on a large and dedicated group of volunteers to develop and implement programs such as continuing education. Additionally, a volunteer's committee participation assists the WDAA Board of Directors in identifying potential new leaders for deployment as chairmen of future committees and task forces. The revised committee structure will lend additional insight to the value the WDAA places on volunteer efforts as well as increase awareness about the workings of the organization on behalf of the horses and riders participating in this growing discipline.

The WDAA recognizes and appreciates commitments from member volunteers with all sorts of previous equine industry experience and professional backgrounds. Volunteers must be WDAA members in good standing. Time and activity commitments vary across the different committees, so all inquirers are asked to complete a brief questionnaire to assist with matching their talents and availability to areas of need.

While committee chairs are in place, the Western Dressage Association® of America welcomes inquiries and assistance at all levels. To offer your support in a local, national or international capacity, please contact info@westerndressageassociation.org

About the Western Dressage Association® of America: The Western Dressage Association® of America is a 501(c)3 educational non-profit organization focused on providing a model of horsemanship which optimizes the partnership of horse and rider for their mutual benefit. The mission of the Western Dressage Association® is “to honor the horse, to value the partnership between horse and rider and to celebrate the legacy of the American West” which it focuses on thorough its offerings of educational opportunities and events to the equestrian community. To discover more about the WDAA, please visit www.westerndressageassociation.org